BIOGRAPHY

Aimee Frank is Senior Counsel in Troy Gould's real estate department. With over 15 years of experience in real estate law, Ms. Frank is a dedicated advocate for her clients, guiding them through the complexities of real property transactions and ensuring their interests are protected at every turn. Her practice focuses on a broad array of commercial and residential real estate transactions, including acquisitions and dispositions, leasing (residential, office, retail and industrial), land bank (off balance sheet) financings, and all aspects of the ongoing operation and management of real property. Throughout her career, she has worked with a diverse range of clients, from institutional landlords and commercial developers to individual homeowners, providing them with tailored legal solutions that meet their unique needs.

Known for her strategic approach and meticulous attention to detail, Ms. Frank excels in navigating the intricacies of complex real estate transactions and prides herself on bringing a personalized, logical, and creative approach to every client relationship. She is committed to fostering strong relationships built on trust and transparency, ensuring that her clients feel confident and informed throughout the legal process.

Prior to joining TroyGould, Ms. Frank practiced as a real estate attorney at Elkins Kalt, Allen Matkins, and Cox, Castle & Nicholson.
